Publication note: this document is drafted for website and onboarding implementation. It should be checked against the final site build, cookie tools, analytics tools, client contract pack and any signed statements of work before publication.

Purpose

This policy records F-Stop Creative's expectation that its business, suppliers and collaborators operate lawfully and ethically. It is not presented as a statutory modern slavery statement unless the legal threshold and board approval requirements apply.

Expectations

- Suppliers should comply with applicable employment, labour, health and safety and anti-slavery laws.
- Suppliers should not use forced labour, child labour, human trafficking or exploitative practices.
- Suppliers should treat workers fairly and maintain safe working conditions.
- F-Stop Creative may avoid or discontinue suppliers where credible concerns arise.
- Higher-risk production, merchandise, print, apparel, event and fulfilment supply chains should receive additional scrutiny where appropriate.

Reporting concerns

Concerns can be reported to info@fstopcreative.co.uk. The business will consider concerns proportionately and may seek further information, pause work or change supplier arrangements.
